About Yanbaru

Affectionately known as "Yanbaru," the northern region of Okinawa's main island is roughly 90 minutes by car from Naha Airport, and is an area where emerald-green sea stretches into the distance beyond the roadside, while untouched forest remains in the interior. Sometimes referred to as the Eastern Galapagos, it is an area rich in nature, with dugongs visiting its coral reefs and the famous Okinawan Rail living inland.

Surrounded as they are by the sea and mountains, the villages in the Yanbaru region have also strongly preserved the good old ways of living that involve people helping each other and coexisting with nature, including local cuisine that brings out the best in local ingredients, stirring folk dances, traditional crafts with defined techniques, and the hospitality of the charming people.

Come and spend some time in Yanbaru, amongst the living, original scenery of Okinawa, and experience a taste of emotion far removed from the everyday.

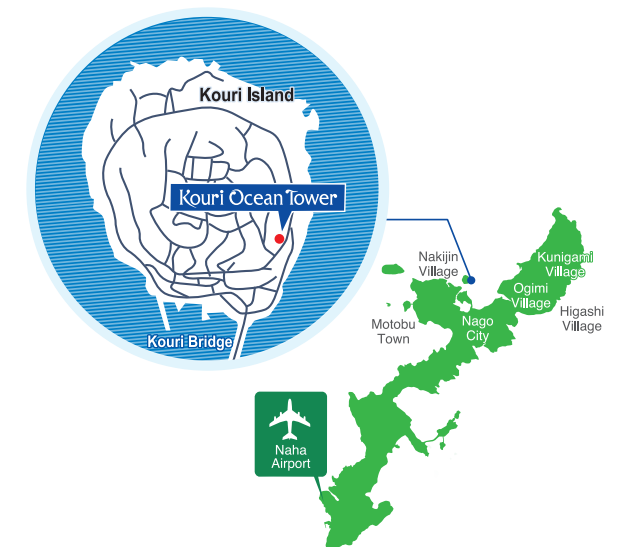

Kouri
Ocean Tower

An impressive party with a view of "Kouri Blue"

Romantic Kouri island, also called "Kuijima (Island of Love)," where the Okinawan version of the Adam and Eve legend remains. Kouri Ocean Tower towers over the gateway to the island. It boasts a stunning view of incredible scale said to be the most beautiful in the prefecture, and is famous for its emerald-green ocean and sky full of stars under the evening tide.

The island, rich in nature and close to the area designated as Yanbaru National Park, is just a 30-minute drive away from popular tourist attractions such as Okinawa Churaumi Aquarium, the World Heritage site of Nakijin Castle ruins, and Nago Pineapple Park. Free parking is provided, including space for up to 10 large buses.

The "Kuijima Party" is a special party that brings together a lineup of food made with fresh local ingredients, delicious local alcoholic beverages, and traditional performing arts as entertainment - all on an open-air stage in the middle of the sea and the sky. Various plans are available, including a casual garden-buffet, or a full-course dinner at a restaurant boasting panoramic views.

Delicious Yanbaru

The Kujima Party provides you with the chance to enjoy dishes made using seasonal local ingredients mainly from Yanbaru. High quality meat (native Ryukyu "Agu" pork and Okinawa-brand Wagyu beef) marbled with fat packed with sweetness and umami, healthy poultry raised free-ranging over fertile land, freshly landed coastal fish, along with island vegetables, herbs and tropical fruit lovingly grown by local farmers... We can make ample use of this culinary bounty to satisfy your dining-style requests. Enjoy some special time with local beers, Ryukyu Awamori and tropical drinks.

Yanbaru's Entertainment

With offerings that include the UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage-designated "Kumiodori," the "Ryukyu Buyo" dances that were on display at the banquets to welcome envoys from China in the days of the Ryukyu Kingdom, Ryukyu classical music played at the imperial court, Okinawan folk songs played mainly on the Sanshin using a unique musical scale omitting the notes "Re" and "La," and folk entertainment such as Eisa and Lion dances passed down over generations in individual regions, Okinawa is an island passionate about entertainment. At the Kuijima Party, we will arrange for performers and artists to meet your needs, including providers of folk entertainment and songs, singers of Sanshin island ballads, as well as performers of chamber music, jazz, or cheerful Latin rhythms. In addition, we handle production using lighting and special-effects equipment, and can record important parties (video and still photography) for posterity.
